Guttorm Guttormsgaard: known unknown

Guttorm Guttormsgaard has been a central figure in the Norwegian art world since the 1960s. His artistic career spans a number of phases, mediums and idioms. The exhibition in the Stenersen Museum presents this copious and important oeuvre for the first time in its full scope.

The Stenersen Museum will present Guttormsgaard as graphic artist and draughtsman. Special attention will be devoted among other things to his sketchbook diaries, which he has kept for several decades. The exhibition will also document his most important public art projects. His work as an illustrator will be given special attention, and his copious collection will naturally play an important role.
